“Distracted Heart-Devoted Heart”

Each of us balances many responsibilities in our lives. It always seems to be a struggle to carve out time for ourselves and personal time with our Savior. Put yourself first and make time to join us for this special weekend. ### Our Speaker - Peg Arnold

As a wife and mother Peg has been challenged with all the distractions and balance required when you raise two children and now enjoys that same organized chaos with five grandchildren. In the midst of those years she grew as a leader through her involvement in women's ministry, Christian Education and musical endeavors. She found fulfillment in working as a math teacher and a school counselor. During these years, the Lord gently called Peg into sharing what the hope of Christ taught her through these experiences using her gifts of drama, speaking and writing. Since then she has been sharing her message with women's groups across the country and she is looking forward to being with your group.
